Breakfast Menu

Non-yeasted breads made with spelt, rye, kamut, barley, corn: the dough (flour and water mixture) for baking non-yeasted breads is allowed to rise for about 7 hours before it is baked. Unlike yeasted breads which rise quickly; non-yeasted breads release their digestive enzymes in the lactic acid ferment that takes place. Lactic acid can be blown off by several deep breathes throughout the day. Other acids produced by the body increase the workload of the kidneys. For non-yeasted bread recipe click here. After eating non-yeasted spelt bread many have noticed that they never come away with a bloated feeling. It is the same with nuts, beans, legumes and seeds that have been presoaked to lessen their phytic acid content. With large ever expanding cystic organs, it is useful to minimize bloating. Many with liver cysts take H2 blockers. In theory this slows down secretin and prevents liver cysts from expanding.
